

The Unbridled SPIRIT

In a sport which is controlled and calculated down to the last stride, where each piece of tack is consciously chosen and even a good luck charm double checked, the thought of freedom and letting loose is a dream.

SO WHAT BETTER A NAME FOR AN EQUESTRIAN'S LUXURY YACHT WHICH PROMISES OPEN WATER AND ADVENTURE THAN UNBRIDLED.

Following an international circuit of horse shows to remain at the top of the sport, riders and their families are constantly on the road and often away from home. While the cardinal rule of real estate is location, location, location, what about a home away from home which travels with you to different locations. Many horse shows are near to harbors so having a yacht can serve as not only a home base but a way to have excursions to relax after intense competition. Crispin Baynes, Sales Broker of Burgess Yachts comments, "Every charter is fully customized and the vessel is capable of going anywhere in the world. That's the beautiful thing about yacht charter – every experience is unique." Burgess has 14 locations around the world to cater to international clients interested in sale or purchase, charter, or new construction. Their team is fluent in different languages and represents a wide array of vessels.

Some equestrian families will keep a boat in Palm Beach to be near the Winter Equestrian Festival in Wellington, Florida or in Sag Harbor, New York to be near the Hampton Classic. For Unbridled which is set to be in the Mediterranean this summer, it could be home base for the Global Champions Tour across Europe which includes coastal destinations such as Cannes and Monaco.

Baynes comments, "We can be your floating, private 7-star hotel for accommodations and amazing entertainment during these events. For example, Unbridled has a huge sundeck and can accommodate up to 50 guests for a dockside cocktail party."

Coming in at 58.2 meters or 191 feet Unbridled has six adaptable ensuite cabins with interiors throughout by Patrick Knowles. In terms of bells and whistles there is a large Jacuzzi, tenders, toys, dive equipment, lots of outdoor space, a large wine cellar, powerful IT and Internet and a media lounge. Burgess' team are also expert travel planners and can suggest numerous day trips to chic beachside restaurants, golfing, fine dining, and panoramic helicopter flights. Baynes says,

“ WE WORK WITH CLIENTS WHO CONSTANTLY CHALLENGE US TO CREATE UNIQUE EXPERIENCES FOR THEM. THIS IS WHAT WE LOVE DOING

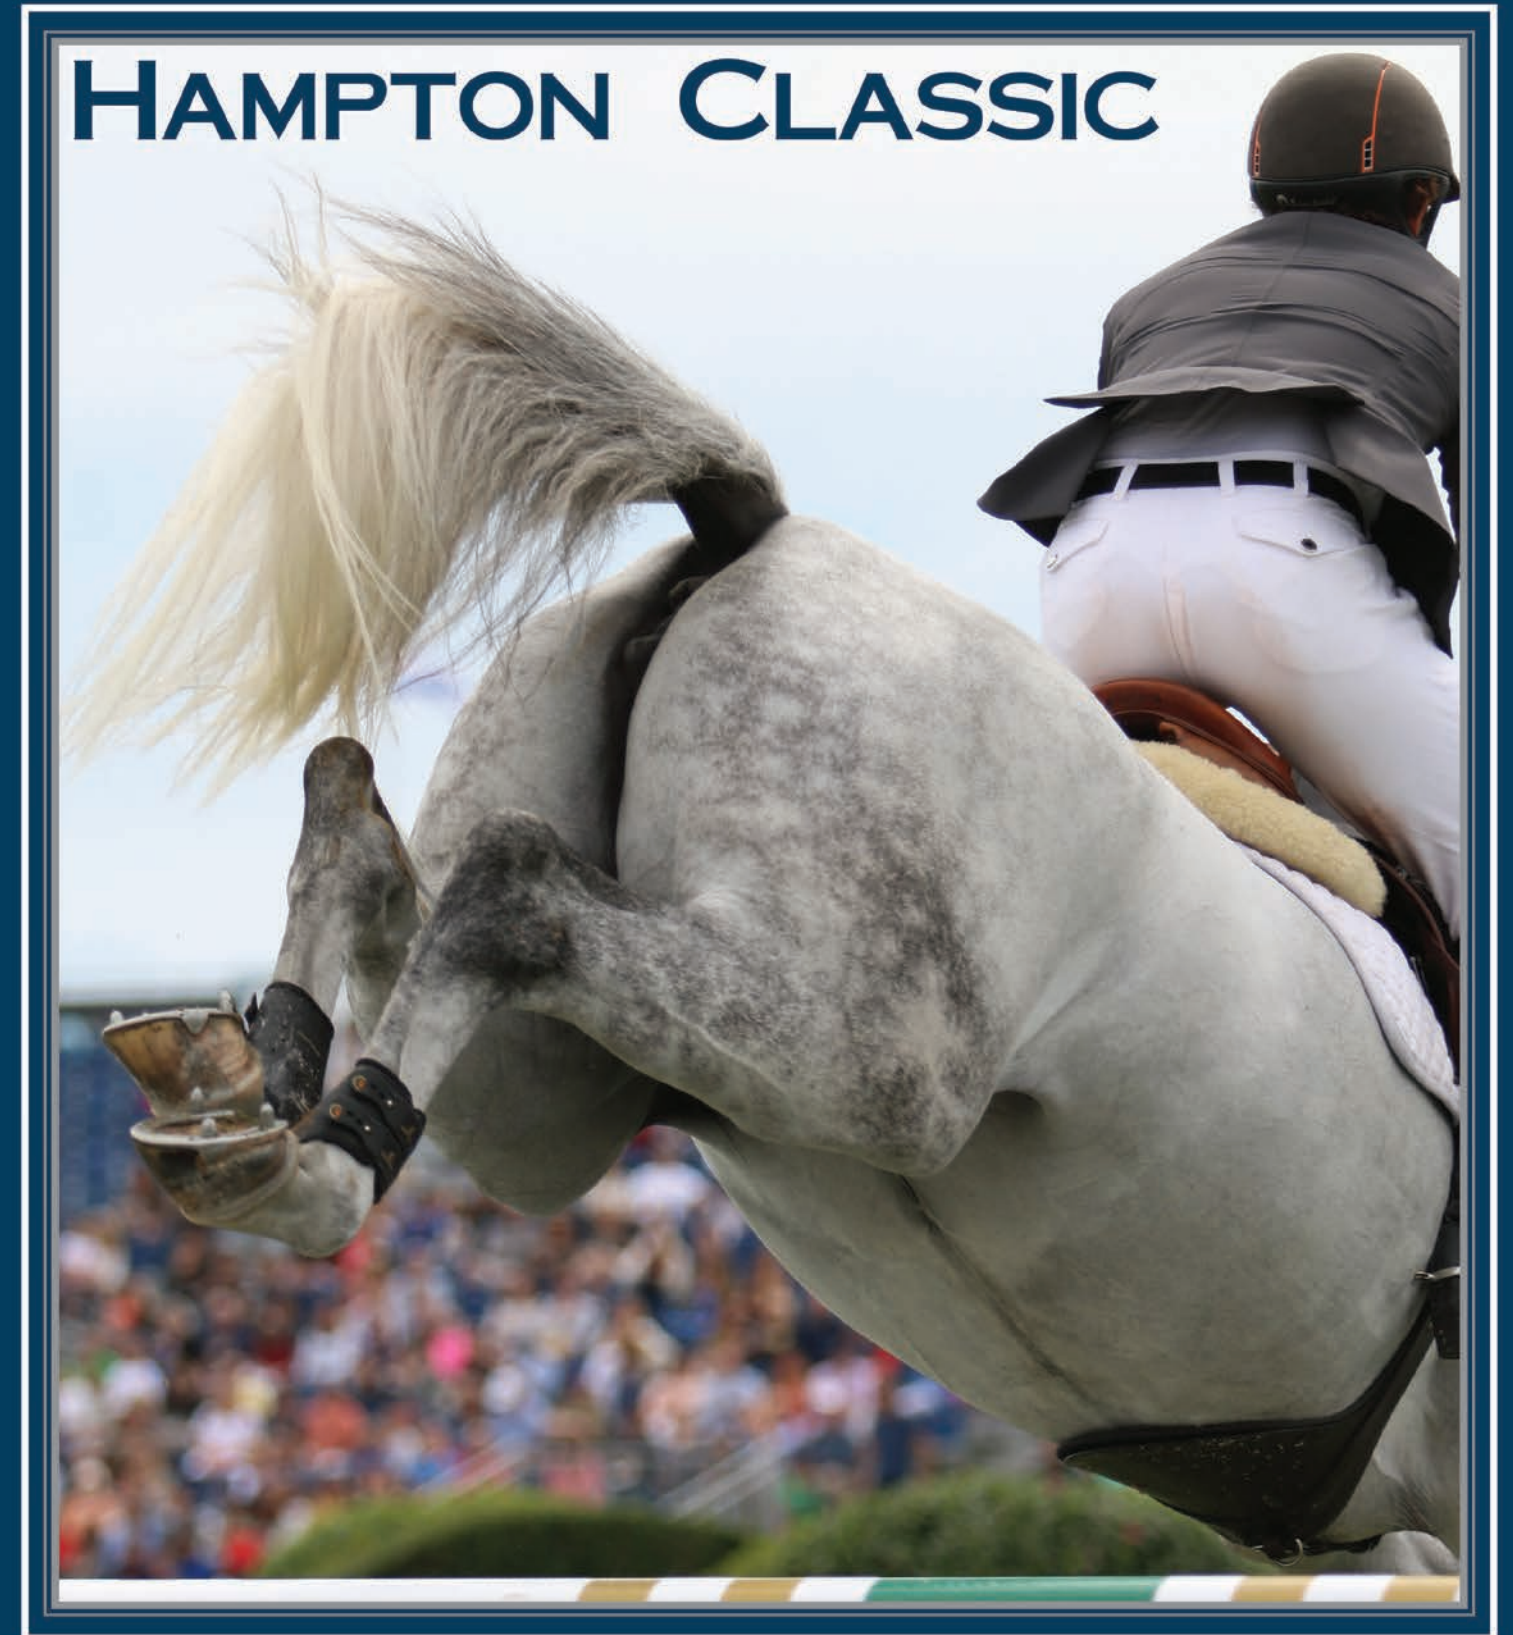

One night we hosted a surprise party on board in St. Tropez and had ice sculptures of horses made last minute. For another party we filled the aft deck with inflatable crocodiles.”

Another lure of the yacht is privacy and security. With some bold-faced names who are part of the equestrian world this relaxing sanctuary can be appealing. "All guests are completely anonymous and crew are trained in the highest levels of privacy and service,"explains Baynes. "This is a major reason why many clients love the superyacht lifestyle – complete privacy and exclusivity like nowhere else. The yacht is also equipped with high level security cameras and alarms and the crew are specially trained. There are extra sleeping quarters for body guards if a client wishes to bring a security detail. Plus, being out on the water makes it very difficult to approach the yacht without alerting the crew." Next they need to design the floating paddock so four legged friends can join in the fun.
